

Ms. Leong Yuk Ping, the School Principal of Po Leung Kuk No.1 W.H Cheung College, graduated from the Faculty of Arts at the University of Hong Kong, majoring in History and Political Science. She furthered her professional studies in education by completing a postgraduate certificate in education at the University of Hong Kong and a Master's degree in School Leadership and Administration at the Chinese University of Hong Kong.

Having accumulated more than two decades of experience in the field of education, she has wholeheartedly committed herself to the dual roles of teaching and administration. Beyond her school duties, Ms. Leong actively engages in public service, such as inspecting examination papers and contributing to professional workshops organized by the Hong Kong Education Bureau.

Driven by her belief that education should adapt to change, Ms. Leong actively participates in professional training workshops to enhance her teaching and school management skills. She takes a leading role in organizing experience exchange programs with schools of different levels, promoting professional development and mentorship workshops for new teachers. Moreover, she encourages her colleagues to join training workshops offered by the Hong Kong Education Bureau and local tertiary institutes. Through her efforts, Ms. Leong has secured funding from the Quality Education Fund to provide tailor-made professional training schemes for middle managers in two different schools, showcasing her commitment to evolving trends in education.

Ms. Leong firmly believes that a school of excellence is one that supports students in facing challenges and difficulties, providing them with a dependable place and a second home that instills hope while never forgetting the fundamental purpose of education. She understands that excellence in education can only be achieved through consensus among different stakeholders, tailored strategies based on the school context, shared educational vision and leadership, preservation of the school's legacy and traditions, synergy among members, and the courage to face challenges.

Ms. Leong holds a strong belief that a well-rounded education originates from a harmonious relationship among teachers, parents, and students. Teachers serve as role models, guiding students to realize their full potential, strive for excellence with a genuine heart and soul, adopt a growth mindset, lead fulfilling lives, and contribute to the betterment of society through education.
