

Dear S6 students,

Today marks the final day in Po.1, a significant milestone in your life. Though my time at this school has been brief, I have been deeply impressed by the effort, dedication, and perseverance you have demonstrated throughout this challenging academic year, much like when I prepared to leave school to take my A-level exams.

There are a few things I would like to share with you:

- As you enter the examination hall, remember that you have prepared to the best of your abilities. Maintain focus, adopt a positive mindset, and believe in your capabilities.
- Even though I may not be physically present to support each one of you during the exams, my support for all of you remains unwavering.
- I have full confidence in every one of you. I do not doubt that you will achieve great accomplishments.
- Keep moving forward, stay focused, and never give up! Always remember that not only your teachers and staff members but also your families are cheering you on.
- You are not alone on this journey.

Congratulations! May the final day of your school life become an unforgettable memory.

I wish you all the best in your exams and all your future endeavors.

With all my love and best wishes,
Principal Leong
